Delivery Date Of Signal Lights Set for Nov. 18

Council Holds Up Approval of New Water Line

The Harrisburg city council was advised yesterday that delivery date on standards for the four-way signal lights at Main and Poplar has been set for Nov. 18.

The information was given by Rob R. Brown, motor fuel tax engineer, who stated the Skaggs Electric Co., awarded the contract to do the job, had got that delivery date from the manufacturers.

At the time of the letting several weeks ago it was revealed that it would take from 30 to 60 days to get the material.

Brown said that some of the necessary material would be coming in before Nov. 18 and that possibly considerable work could be done before the standards and control box arrive.

The council members held up approval of one of the actions of the water and sewer board, taken Monday night at the city hall.

Not given approval was the plan laid out to try to alleviate the water problem in Dorrisville.

Council members said they definitely wanted to see that bad situation remedied but that they wanted to know more about how the water board planned to run a six-inch main from South Main to Stranger over Robinson. This stretch of Robinson is being paved at present with blacktopping set for the middle of the month.

The proposal adopted by the water board was to run this line about Oct. 8 and the council sought to know just where this line would go. Some thought, too, that the proposal should be engineered to see if it would be of sufficient help to the Dorrisville area.

Engineer Brown, when questioned, said this line will not cure the situation entirely but would definitely help.

A proposal to buy a new police car was submitted by Charles R. Hine, commissioner of public safety, and the council made plans to advertise for bids on both 1956 and 1957 models.

Special Services Observe Centennial Of Mt. Moriah Methodist Church

Mt. Moriah Methodist church is 100 years old this year and members of the congregation are planning special worship services the remainder of this week to observe the church's centennial and also to dedicate recent improvements to the church building.

The following history of the church was written by Mrs. John C. Small, member and historian of Mt. Moriah church:

"A century ago a saintly woman, Mrs. Martha Blake, ancestress of many people living in Saline county, with the help of others, organized the Methodist Episcopal church, known as Mt. Moriah.

"This church is located on the old Harrisburg and Galatia road, half way between the two towns.

"Before a building could be constructed, the members used the Bankston church, alternating with the Baptist congregation. At times when flood waters prevented their reaching the church, they would hold services under a huge oak tree near the flood swollen creek.

"Later, the Mt. Moriah members worshipped in a log building of the Methodist Protestants. The building was just across the road from the location of the present church. As time went on and the membership grew, a small frame church was built on the present site, the ground being given by one of the members, Mrs. Benjamin Easton, a school teacher and the first pastor.

"In 1895 the present building was constructed. Since 1950 a basement and other improvements make the building more suited to the modern needs."

The Centennial program starts this evening at 7 o'clock with prayer services.

Thursday evening the Womens Society of Christian Service will be in charge. There will be a film on Mission work in Malaya, Burma and Hong Kong. Mrs. Mabel Bramlet and Mrs. Cecil Simpson will direct the program.

Old Fashion Night Friday evening is "Old Fashion" night. Rev. Irvin Braden, the pastor, will bring an old fashioned sermon and those attending are asked to come dressed in their everyday work clothes or clothing that was fashionable years ago.

Saturday evening is Youth Night and the Rev. H. L. "Buddy" Peyton of the Spring Grove charge will speak on "The Youth's Place in the Church." Musical numbers will be furnished by the young people of Mt. Moriah church, the Galatia M. Y. F. and possibly others. There also will be a pantomime by the Young People's Sunday school class with Shirley Price the director.

Sunday services begin with the 9:30 a. m. Bible school, followed by the morning worship service. Dr. Maurice L. Winn, Harrisburg district superintendent, will preach, administer the Holy Sacrament and dedicate the new basement.

In the afternoon a former pastor, Rev. W. E. Bush of Edwardsville, will speak and there will be a program of music.

There will be a basket dinner at noon in the church dining room. Members and friends of the church are invited to attend any and all of the services to observe the Centennial of Mt. Moriah Methodist church.

Funeral services for Mrs. Hattie Shepherd, 76, former Harrisburg resident who died Tuesday at noon at the Carmi Nursing home where she had been a number of years, will be Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Gaskins funeral chapel where the body lies in state. Rev. John Yuhus will officiate and burial will be in the Coffee cemetery.

New Wage Contract For Water Employees Now In Effect

A new contract between the City of Harrisburg and employees of the Harrisburg Water Department, members of Local Union No. 815 of the International Union of Operating Engineers, has been approved and is now in effect.

The only change in the contract was in the wage rate.

Each of the 12 employees of the water and sewer department received a flat wage increase of $14.06 per month, effective Jan. 1, 1956, and effective Jan. 1, 1957, each employee will receive an additional wage increase of $7.03 per month.

The new wage rate was based on a 5 per cent increase of the total monthly salaries paid, with each employee getting the same additional wage increase dollars and cents wise.

The jobs are graded and the rate of pay is different and in years past the increases were percentage wise on each individual job. This year the men requested the increase be based on total salaries and each given the same increase.

Pilot Burns to Death in Plane

ROCKLAND, Mass. (AP) — The pilot of a crashed jet burned to death Tuesday before 100 onlookers because rescuers were unable to remove the flaming plane's jammed canopy.

Lt. (jg) Donald R. Good, 37, crashed the plane on a poultry farm after he had avoided hitting a row of houses.

The plastic canopy of his Cougar jet fighter plane jammed after opening five inches.

"I could see the pilot struggling inside to get out," poultryman Gerald Del Prete said. "But we couldn't budge the canopy. I got hold of his arm, but I couldn't pull him out."

The Navy announced that an accident board would be convened today to investigate the cause of the crash. Navy officials also said that Good, a native of Fairfax, Mo., was a veteran pilot.

He is survived by his wife and their two children, Charles, 3, and Nancy, 1. Good's parents were visiting at his Natick, Mass., home when the accident happened.

UMW Announces $2.40 Day Package Pay Increase

Anonymous Letter Answered

(An Editorial)

Ordinarily we throw into our waste basket letters which are not signed, but we are going to take the time and space to answer one which we received this week.

This isn't important, so skip it if you like, or hear what we have to say.

We are accused (in the letter) of covering up illegal activities in Saline county; of being one-sided politically; and finally our Christianity is questioned.

We will grant that the letter writer was in earnest, and here is our answer:

If the letter writer can, as he charges, "buy liquor over the counter in more than one place," it is his duty to file charges with the State's Attorney, or go before the grand jury, which is currently in session, or talk to county law enforcement officers. He shouldn't ask another to do what he knows is his duty as a citizen.

As to our political reporting—the United States is now in the heat of a political campaign. It is the American tradition that politics be taken seriously, especially during a presidential election campaign, and it would be a rarity indeed should a newspaper be able to satisfy all of both major political beliefs.

Our primary business is that of running a newspaper. It is a business with us. We must keep people sufficiently interested that they will want to read our newspaper and provide a medium which advertisers will use successfully to sell their wares. The Daily Register is not a political publication. The day when the winning editor became postmaster has long since passed. We are in the newspaper business, not politics.

From our top officials down to the part-time mailing room assistant, we are about evenly divided politically. We have our political preferences and our good-natured arguments. And, pretty generally, our friends are known to us.

But it would be folly for us to attempt to tell our readers that either party has a monopoly on intelligence and statesmanship in a county in which neither party has had absolute control of various offices for the past 30 or more years.

The Republicans think we are too favorable to the Democrats and the Democrats think we are too favorable to the Republicans; so we must be doing a pretty fair job of reporting political news.

The writer in his letter expresses the hope "that the people responsible for this newspaper do not call themselves Christians; and if they do, may they go to the Lord in prayer — God help them."

We'll, we do call ourselves Christians, and we do pray. But, like most, we don't pray enough.

Propose Abolishing Auditor and Treasurer as Elective Offices

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — A sweeping overhaul of the state government to abolish the offices of state treasurer and state auditor as elective offices was proposed today to prevent a recurrence of the million dollar Hodge scandal.

Albert E. Jenner, special assistant attorney general named to conduct a State Budgetary Commission investigation of the Hodge case, made the proposal in an interim report to the commission Tuesday.

He said his final report, expected by the end of this month, probably will urge the Budgetary Commission to recommend to the Legislature elimination of the offices of state auditor and state treasurer by constitutional amendment.

Jenner said the two offices are largely unnecessary and only "clutter up" the ballot.

He said he is "tentatively considering" recommending that the two offices be replaced by a new banking and commerce department under the governor, an agency appointed by the governor to check and approve state vouchers and then write checks for them, and a bipartisan legislative commission to make post audits on the spending of state agencies.

Jenner said this commission should have at its head a career accountant and should be responsible only to the Legislature.

Mrs. Hodge to Seek Recovery Of Her Property

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Morris Shenker, St. Louis attorney, said Tuesday he is representing Mrs. Orville E. Hodge in efforts to recover her property held by the state of Illinois.

Family assets valued at more than $600,000 were turned over to the state by the Hodge after thefts of nearly $1,500,000 by Hodge were discovered. Hodge, former state auditor, is now in prison.

Shenker said he will meet Mrs. Hodge in Chicago Thursday to decide on a course of action to recover the portion of the property belonging to Mrs. Hodge. Her property share would include gifts from her father, William Coudy, late Granite City lumber merchant, and property acquired by her and her husband.

Mrs. Hodge presently is in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Shenker said.

Russia Accepts U. S. Bid to Watch Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has accepted a United States invitation to send Soviet observers to this country to watch the windup of the presidential campaign.

Moreover, the Russians said they would welcome similar American visitors to observe Soviet-type campaigning and balloting in their next big election.

Moscow's agreement to send "two or three" observers to the United States was communicated to the American Embassy in the Soviet capital last Saturday, the United Press learned.

The State Department sent similar invitations about two weeks ago to Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary and Romania. Russia and the satellites were asked to send observers "to view at first hand the free electoral processes in this country."

Administration officials are surprised that the satellite nations so far have not accepted the U. S. invitation—particularly after Moscow did so.

There is speculation that the satellites will fall into line. But there is some feeling, too, that the Russians might not like to have the satellites know too much about the "free and unfettered elections" the United States has been talking about for years for Eastern Europe.

He told a press conference Monday that he did not care to "express" a presidential preference before the convention began. The mine workers chief said he might have something to say "later."

Despite Lewis' joint criticism of Mr. Eisenhower, it did not appear that the convention will endorse the President's Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson.

Lewis has said privately that he wants to skip the national fight so the 600,000-member union can concentrate on electing 45 congressional candidates friendly to the mine workers.

The 76-year-old mine workers chief said in the report that President Eisenhower remade the Republican Party "into his image" but it "was and had to be controlled by and for big business."

In a keynote speech to the UMW convention, Lewis, accused the Tennessee Valley Authority of "a clear conspiracy to evade the law on the part of a government agency."

Lewis charged that the TVA was buying coal from small non-union mine operators at prices considerably lower than the industry wage scale.

The mine workers president also called once again for repeal of what he described as the "hateful" Taft-Hartley Act.

$1.20 Day Boost Effective as Of October 1

Announcement of Pact Made at Miners' Convention

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The United Mine Workers today announced a new package wage agreement totaling $2.40 a day for some 200,000 coal miners.

UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy, who presented the agreement to the UMW convention here, said it was the "greatest agreement the union has ever negotiated."

Kennedy said the agreement provides for a two-step wage increase amounting to $2 a day in wages and 40 cents a day in fringe benefits.

A $1.20 wage increase for the miners becomes effective upon signing, retroactive to Oct. 1. An 80 cent increase will be made next April 1, Kennedy said. At that time, miners will be earning $22.25 a day. Their current wage scale is $20.25 a day, excluding fringe benefits.

The agreement also provides 14-day vacations with double time for work on holidays and Sundays and time and one-half pay for work on Saturdays. The miners also will be given three extra vacation days at Christmas, on Dec. 24, 25 and 31.

The agreement was secretly negotiated in the last few weeks by United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis and top officials of the Bituminous Coal Operators Assn.

Earlier, Lewis said President Eisenhower must accept full responsibility for any mistakes of his administration.

Lewis' comment on the President was his first direct statement at the convention on how he felt about the presidential candidates.

Beta Kappa Chapter Holds Model Meeting

The fall rushees were guests of the Beta Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at a Model meeting at the library Monday evening, Oct. 1.

Announcements were made of invitations to the Beta Kappa chapter from Galesburg and Chester chapters to special events which will be held in October and November.

Mrs. Leo Podoricki, Ways and Means chairman, announced that the candy has arrived and will be for sale by all sorority members.

Mrs. James Henderson gave the program entitled "Her Crowning Glory." She gave a brief historical sketch of hairdress and headdress dating from the 12th century to the elaborate coiffures and salons of today. Mrs. H. B. Bauman, director, gave an interesting talk on the achievements and purposes of Beta Phi locally, nationally and internationally.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Gene Neihaus, Mrs. David Flota and Mrs. Donald Hughes from a table covered with dark brown cloth centered with a beautiful bouquet of Fiji mums.

Rushee guests were Miss Mary Hanning, Mrs. Lowell Vaughn, Miss Carol Odle, Mrs. James Johnson and Miss Cleta Albright.

Amoma Class Hears About Teacher's European Tour

Mrs. J. A. Musgrave, who spent two months traveling in Europe this summer, was hostess last Friday evening to the Amoma Sunday school class of the First Baptist church, which is taught by her. Members were interested to hear of her traveling experiences, and had planned a covered dish dinner, under leadership of the class president, Mrs. R. C. Riegel.

Mrs. Musgrave told of the countries visited and the trip via boat and return via plane. She observed that she would rather live in the United States than any place visited, but remarked upon the courtesy in family life in homes which she visited that is not as general in American homes. Their less casual and more considerate manners she attributed to their war experiences of danger and the resultant appreciation of mutual dependence upon one another for safety and happiness.

Of all the countries visited, she said, she felt more "at home" among the English. Mrs. Musgrave had a right to feel at home among the English for her ancestors came from the Cornish area and one of the great experiences of her tour was a visit to the seaside where the "Trevelyns" (Trevillians) lived.

In attendance were the following: Mrs. Archie Abney and her mother, Mrs. Evelyn Turner, Mrs. Corby Wickham, Mrs. James White, Miss Faye Moffett, Mrs. R. C. Riegel, Mrs. J. B. Moore, Mrs. Norman Benson, Mrs. Roscoe Pulliam, Mrs. Cyrus Steinsultz, Mrs. Harry Boggess, Mrs. C. F. Gidcomb, Mrs. Woodrow Cox, Mrs. E. W. Smith, Mrs. Hal Wilson, Mrs. Ernie Johnson, Mrs. C. C. Porter and Mrs. Musgrave. Mrs. Maud Martin, substitute teacher, was an especially invited guest.

Two Boys Steal Four Boats During Runaway Chase

CAIRO, Ill. — The boat racing days of Davy Crockett along the Ohio River were recalled Tuesday with the capture of two runaway boys from state honor farm.

Authorities said the boys stole four boats during the chase which led from the Massac County State Honor Farm at Metropolis some 30 miles from here.

Cairo Police Chief Frank Clifford, riding in a government patrol boat, ended the last lap of the chase by firing a shot across the bow of the motorboat the boys had stolen at Olmstead.

Sheriffs from Alexander and Massac counties and from Ballard County, Ky., were in on the chase. Th boys, Ben James Thompson, St. Louis, and Jerome Krause Chicago, both 16, are being held by Massac County authorities who said they plan to file charges.

Hearing at Mt. Carmel Oct. 25 On Train Petition

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Commerce Commission today scheduled a regional hearing at Mount Carmel to hear area objections to a New York Central Railroad petition to abandon its Chicago-Harrisburg passenger trains.

Hearing examiner Francis Blair set the regional hearing for Oct. 25 after a conference with railroad and opposition attorneys here.

A hearing scheduled earlier to be held at Mount Carmel today was postponed in favor of a Springfield session.

Springfield attorney Frank M. Pfeiffer, representing a New York Central users committee, composed of 18 southern Illinois communities, cross-examined the principal company witness at today's hearing.

William R. Main, director of passenger service for the railroad, went back over his testimony concerning heavy losses for the Illinois operation of the road's two passenger trains between Danville and Harrisburg.

Direct "above the rail" losses for the two trains in 1955 totaled $44,471, in addition to fixed cost, he said.

Under persistent questioning he estimated the railroad lost about 15 million dollars on its freight operations in Illinois during the same year. The NYC and other railroads have a freight rate case pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Find Body of 16-Year-Old Girl

HOBART, Ind. — The nearly nude and battered body of a 16-year-old girl was uncovered by a man digging in a sand bank Tuesday.

The girl was identified as Lana Brock, New Chicago, Ind., a small community outside Gary, Ind. Officials said she had been dead about a week.

Dr. Warren Pike, Lake County deputy coroner, said marks on the girl's throat indicated she was strangled. He said the right side of her face was battered and her legs were bruised.

Police believed she was killed while struggling with somebody under a tree 20 feet from where her body was found. She apparently had not been raped.

Salem Man Takes Fire to Fire Dep't

SALEM, Ill. — Vernon Weiss, a trash and garbage collector in downtown Salem, took his fire to the fire department this morning.

A batch of barrels on his truck became ignited as he was making his rounds. He drove a few blocks with the barrels blazing to the fire department where firemen put out the fire.

First Annual 'Open House' at Carrier Mills High a Success

The first annual "open house" held at the Carrier Mills Community high school last Thursday was a "terrific success," Warren Jennings, principal, reports.

Approximately 200 adults visited the high school Thursday evening between the hours of 7 and 9:30 and observed actual class instruction.

Of the 223 students enrolled all but three attended the night classes and two of them were excused due to illness or previously made engagements.

Regular, but shortened classes were held, with additional chairs placed in the classrooms for the visitors. However, many more adults came than had been expected and in many instances it was necessary for many visitors to stand.

In addition to visiting the classes, the visitors also were taken on a tour of the building, were introduced to the CMCHS faculty members, the Board of Education, members of the Student Council and class officers.

Political Writer Says Bettors Favoring Austin

CHICAGO — A Chicago political reporter has said that as of a week ago professional bettors here were offering 4 to 1 that Democrat Richard B. Austin will defeat Gov. William G. Stratton in November.

John Dreiske, in his Sept. 26 column in the Chicago Sun-Times, said the bettors based their reasoning on Austin's downstate campaign showing "despite his late start as a substitute candidate," and on the fact that Stratton's 1952 plurality was less than half of that of President Eisenhower's.

Dreiske said the "gamblers and their information-getters" were convinced the farm vote has soured on Ike, although they made Mr. Eisenhower a 3 to 1 favorite for re-election. They believe, however, that the farm vote will be heavier for the Democrats and thus will reduce the margin of candidates who might otherwise get by on the presidential popularity.

Strike Halts Work At Caterpillar

PEORIA, Ill. — Production at the Caterpillar Tractor Co. stopped today when the entire midnight shift failed to show up for work in protest of an alleged speedup.

About 22,000 employees were idled by the walkout which the company termed a wildcat strike. The work stoppage began Tuesday when a foreman threatened to reduce a welder to a sweeper unless he worked faster, according to a company spokesman.

Union representatives said the incident between the welder and the foreman followed a gradual speedup at the plant for the past several weeks.

Taken to Vandalia

Deputy Sheriffs Everett N. Sneed and Jeff Stricklin today took William Riley to the state farm at Vandalia, where Riley will serve a one-year term for drunken driving.

Jack Benny is Featured Soloist At Carnegie Hall

NEW YORK — Jack Benny, who practices violin in the bathroom of his Beverly Hills home because his wife can't stand the racket, appeared as featured soloist in Carnegie Hall Tuesday night.

A glittering audience turned out, presumably in a sort of noble experiment: To see if the hallowed walls would come tumblin' down. Mercifully, the walls held fast.

This is the same building in which Tchaikovsky conducted on the opening day in 1891. Benny played, backed by 70 members of the New York Philharmonic Symphony, from the stage which has been graced by such as Richard Strauss, Saint-Saens, Kreisler, Paderewski, Rachmaninoff, and Heifetz.

When he had finished two classical numbers, he stepped forward and said: "I gotta lotta guts, haven't I?"

It was a nice concert — if you like "Love In Bloom," a number which the Waukegan, Ill., prodigy interpolated into the gizzard of Pablo Sarasate's "Zigeunerweisen" (gypsy airs). He was so persuasive with his treatment, that the symphony, under the direction of Alfred Wallenstein, finally de-toured from Sarasate and followed Benny and his theme song.

The veteran "39-year-old" comedian, who actually was born in Waukegan in 1894 and began appearing as a violinist in 1912, appeared in a benefit for the "committee to save Carnegie Hall" — a building three years older than he is.

Carmi Group Asks Stratton for Probe of Council

CARMI, Ill. — The Carmi Civic Improvement Organization, at loggerheads with the City Council on power, water and sewer service, says Governor Stratton has promised to study its request for a grand jury investigation here.

Mrs. John Renshaw, chairman of the organization, presented a petition asking for the investigation to the governor Tuesday in Carmi.

"As far as I can see now, this is strictly a local matter," the governor said. However, he promised a further study of the petition, a spokesman for the organization said.

Slender Brunette Crowned Queen at Veiled Prophet Ball

ST. LOUIS — Helene Brown Bakewell, 19, a slender brunette, was crowned queen of love and beauty by the Veiled Prophet Tuesday night in the annual coronation ball here.

Miss Bakewell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude I. Bakewell, 5132 Westminster Place, St. Louis. Her father is a lawyer and former member of the U. S. House of Representatives.

His mysterious majesty also received the homage of special maids of honor. They are Sarah Jane Scott, 19, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wendell G. Scott; Abigail Filley Richards, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Whitney Richards; Julia Maffitt Lamy, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Lamy; and Ellen Erwin Niedringhaus, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Erwin Niedringhaus.

The new queen of love and beauty was graduated last June from Whitfield School in St. Louis. Her mother, the former Helene Brown, was a special maid in 1932.

Sen. Johnson Hits Attacks By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson today accused President Eisenhower of making "misleading" statements about the cooperation he received from the Democratic 84th Congress.

Johnson told a news conference that the Democratic majority in Congress during the last two years cooperated with the Eisenhower administration far more than the GOP-controlled 83rd Congress did during the previous two years.

"No president in the history of the Republic has ever had a Congress of another party that has been so free of partisanship as the 84th Congress and nobody knows it better than the President," Johnson said.

The Texas Democrat said that in the closing days of the recent session of Congress Mr. Eisenhower called him and expressed his "great appreciation for the fine work I had done as Senate leader."

Johnson's blast was prompted by Mr. Eisenhower's recent campaign speeches charging that the Democratic Congress failed to act on key features of his legislative program.

Loses Part of Arm

PRINCETON, Ill. — Richard Swanlund, 18, lost the lower half of his left arm when he let it dangle from the window of his truck. Swanlund's limb was severed at the elbow as he passed an oncoming truck loaded with farm equipment. The youth drove to a nearby farmhouse and called an ambulance. He was reported in good condition at a hospital.

Child, Ground Under Wheels Of Truck, Unhurt

GRAYSLAKE, Ill. — Little Karen Wahl escaped with no fractured bones after being ground beneath the wheels of a 14-ton truck.

The 19-month old infant was playing by an excavation near the Wahl home Tuesday. Her mother, Mrs. Jeanne Wahl, 30, watched helplessly as the crane-carrying excavation truck rumbled toward the little girl oblivious of its approach.

Mrs. Wahl said she shrieked as a front wheel of the truck rolled over her daughter. The middle set of double wheels also ran over Karen.

The truck driver heard Mrs. Wahl's screams, and helped rush the tot to a nearby physician's office.

Dr. Jerome Burke said that although Karen's body was bruised from the waist down and sand and gravel had been ground into her skin, x-rays indicated that no bones had been broken.

"It was a gift of God," was the only explanation Burke could offer.

3 Killed, 7 Hurt in Globemaster Crash

CHARLESTON AFB, S. C. — Three men were killed and seven injured today when a giant C124 Globemaster crashed and burned while attempting to land here on a flight from Bermuda.

The cargo plane crashed after missing the runway by "a couple of hundred feet," Lt. John Allen of the public information office said.

The plane was in the Military Transport Service from Kelly AFB, San Antonio, Tex., and on a flight from Bermuda to Charleston with heavy rolls of wire.

The injured were rushed to the U. S. naval hospital where their condition was undetermined.

Cootie No Longer a Menace to Soldiers

FORT DIX, N. J. — The "cootie," that old nemesis of the World War I doughboy, is almost extinct, according to Army medical experts.

Lt. Col. Joseph W. Cooch, chief of preventive medicine here, says the Army is gaining its victory in the war with "cooties" by use of DDT.

"Modern insecticides have almost done away with the body louse (pediculus vestimenti) and such louse-borne epidemic diseases as typhus and relapsing fever in the United States," Cooch said.

"Grandpa may recall his 'cootie hunts' of World War I with nostalgia, but the modern-day soldier, seldom, if ever, feels the bug."

The Potomac river valley above Washington, D. C., is rich in Indian remains.

SUGAR PLUM CAKE

1 cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 3 1/2 cups sifted all purpose flour, 3/4 tsp. salt, 3/4 tsp. baking powder (double acting), 8 egg whites, RICH-WHIP, 1 tsp. vanilla. (All ingredients should be at room temperature)

Cream butter well. Add sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Add vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with 1 cup of liquid made of equal parts of RICH-WHIP and water. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry, with rotary beater or electric mixer set at high speed. Fold beaten egg whites into batter. Pour into four round 9 in. layer cake pans one inch deep which have been lined on bottoms with greased waxed paper. Bake in moderate oven... 375 deg. about 15 minutes. If you have only two pans, remaining half of batter may stand while first two layers are baking. After removing from oven let stand for five minutes and then turn out on racks to cool. Spread this delightful frosting between layers and on top and sides:

8 egg yolks, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1 cup finely cut candied cherries, 1 tsp. imitation rum flavoring, 1 cup finely chopped nuts, 1 cup fresh shredded coconut, 1 cup finely chopped seeded raisins, 1 1/4 cups sugar—1/4 tsp. salt.

Beat egg yolks slightly, add sugar and butter, and cook in saucepan over medium heat, stirring constantly for about 5 minutes, or until sugar is dissolved and mixture is slightly thickened. Do not over-cook, or until egg yolks become scrambled in appearance. Mixture should remain almost transparent. Remove from heat and add remaining ingredients. Let stand until cold before spreading on cake.

Newlyweds Sure Marriage is In for Long Run

By GAY PAULEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — All those people worried about our high divorce rate can relax a little.

Today's marriages, made in heaven, seem to be in for a long run on earth.

The new batch of newlyweds and about-to-be newlyweds is a moonstruck group, sure that marriage will last and unworried about either mortgage or mother-in-law.

At least this rosy future glows throughout replies from 3,500 couples to the question, "What do you expect of your marriage?"

I just combed through the 3,500 sentimental answers and found—that with rare exceptions—the young set is dead serious about building a lifetime together.

Not one commented that, "Oh well, if it doesn't work..."

One couple said, "we expect our marriage to be so lasting and loving it will make the Rock of Gibraltar look like a mountain of putty."

Most of them expected quarrels but didn't expect them to last.

"We already have made a pact," said one engaged pair. "We will not go to sleep angry at each other."

"We expect everything from marriage," one couple said. "We want... children, love and love for our in-laws."

Most of the couples planned for more than one child. Most of them wanted to own their own home and fully expected to afford it.

Few of them expected financial problems, although some brides-to-be conceded they would have to help hubby finish college.

"We don't want to be the wealthiest couple on the block," said one duo. "What's more, we know we won't."

"We know we'll be poor, but happy," said one pair.

Most felt their religion would be a major factor in their lives together.

Cairo Man Pleads Guilty in Slaying

MOUND CITY, Ill. — Norman Halliday Jr., 33, Cairo, scheduled to go on trial Wednesday in the slaying of an Olmsted tavern keeper, pleaded guilty Monday and was sentenced to 20 years in Menard State Prison.

Halliday was accused of taking part in the murder of Clate Adams last February. Alfred Reahm, also of Cairo, pleaded guilty to the slaying and had been sentenced previously to 100 years in prison.

Halliday's trial on charge of murder was to have started Wednesday with the selection of jurors.

30 Inmates Enroll In SIU Course at Menard Prison

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Thirty inmates have enrolled in the first college course ever taught behind the walls at the Illinois State Penitentiary at Menard, according to L. L. Hines, superintendent of education at the institution.

The Department of Journalism at Southern Illinois University is offering the 12-week course, which allows three quarter hours of college credit.

Teaching the basic course in news writing is Charles C. Clayton, visiting professor of journalism at SIU and editor of The Quill, monthly magazine for journalists. The class meets for two and one-half hour sessions at 12:10 p. m. each Wednesday.

Some of the inmates taking the course are on the staff of Menard Time, the penitentiary's highly-rated tabloid newspaper.

Warden Ross V. Randolph authorized the institution's first venture in extension-type college courses. Previously, the only courses for college credit offered inmates were correspondence courses.

Pleads Innocent

Leslie Johnson of Carrier Mills, served yesterday with a warrant charging him with assault and battery, pleaded innocent to the charge. The warrant was issued upon complaint of his wife, the sheriff's office reported.

THE LONG NIGHT

THE STORY: Jim Phillips and his family and Donald Thompson, son of a neighbor, take refuge in the basement of their home prior to the sneak atom bomb attack on Harrington. The house is shattered and Jim realizes the place is on fire and he must escape.

XVII
Phillips pushed his way to the center of the room. Jagged edges of beams hung crazily in space through which the refrigerator had plunged.

"That's the only way out of here," He straddled the refrigerator lying on its side and pulled a heavy crowbar from its rack on the basement wall.

Phillips stood on the side of the refrigerator, reached up and caught the hooked end of the crowbar around the largest beam which lay almost directly across the hole. He began to tug with the bar; the beam creaked, groaned, and moved a little. He steadied himself, then pulled with all his strength; the beam crashed downward. Phillips saw the light of fires outside. The crackling and spitting of the fire sounded clear and sharp and very near.

"Okay, kids, we're on the way out," Phillips gasped in short breaths as he pushed the refrigerator. "Gimme a hand with this thing."

Soon the battered refrigerator stood upright directly beneath the shorn ceiling. Jim Phillips dragged a bench from beneath the metal table to the center of the room and clambered atop the refrigerator.

"Okay," he said. "You first, Mike. Step up on the bench and grab my hands."

His son climbed onto the bench, reached up and grasped his father's outstretched arms. His father was a powerful man who had worked the last eight years in a foundry. His heavily muscled arms grasped those of his son. He tested the boy's weight, and then swung Mike to the refrigerator top.

"I'm going to boost you through that hole," He linked the fingers of his hands together. "Now, hang on to my shoulder and put your right foot in my hands. Watch it when you land. Okay—here we go!"

Phillips heaved, and the boy scrambled past the edge of the torn ceiling and gained his feet. "Okay, Pop!"

"Don, your turn now," Phillips pulled Donald to his side on the refrigerator top and sent him after his own son. Donald swung upwards, but failed to keep his balance on the shattered kitchen floor. He lurched, flailing his hands for support, tripped, and fell across the tumbled beams. The boy screamed in pain as a saw-toothed splinter drove through his jacket and pierced his side.

Donald fainted, blood welling through his jacket.

"What happened, Mike?" Phillips yelled. "I don't know, Pop," answered Mike, his voice tinged with fear, "a big splinter got stuck in Don's side. He's bleeding terrible."

Phillips swore. "All right, Helen. Better get up there quickly and take care of the boy."

It was more of a struggle with his wife than with the two, lighter youngsters, but he managed to get Helen into the kitchen. Seconds after he scrambled up himself.

Jim Phillips tenderly picked up Donald and carried him to the side of a shattered tree.

The body was still unconscious. Blood was oozing through his shirt and he had turned deathly pale. Helen Phillips knelt alongside the injured youngster. She pulled the jacket to one side and firmly grasped the splinter. Biting her lips she yanked sharply, drawing splintered wood and torn, bloody flesh from Donald's side.

She pulled a handkerchief from her dress pocket and held it tightly against the wound to stem the blood. In a moment it was soaked with red. Jim Phillips was already tearing his shirt into strips. "Use these, Helen," he said quietly, handing the make-shift bandages to his wife.

She took the torn strips and placed them over the soaked handkerchief. "Jim, see if you can find a doctor. Donald's badly hurt," she finished.

Phillips stood up, really noticing for the first time the incredible scene about him. He could not recognize the street on which he stood, the street where he had lived 18 years. Not a house remained above the ground, every single home on the block had been pounded into wreckage.

Many of the ruins were burning fiercely, flames leaping unhindered across the tumbled wreckage. Phillips stared at the mangled remains of an automobile, which had been torn in two; it lay in a crumpled, flaming heap at the base of a shattered tree. High tension wires

Dr. Charles C. Colby Publishes 'Pilot Study of Southern Illinois'

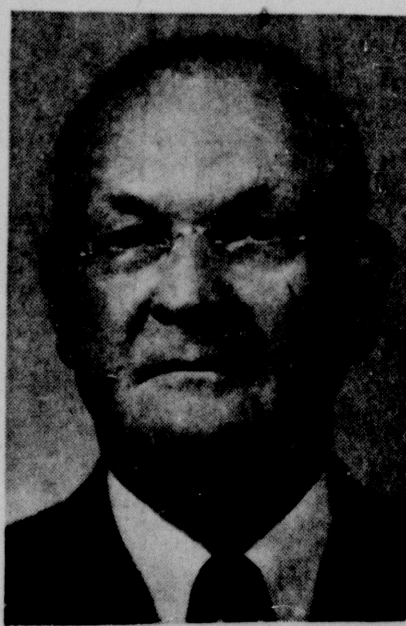

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Dr. Charles C. Colby's new book, "Pilot Study of Southern Illinois," will be published October 20 by the Southern Illinois University Press, according to Vern Sternberg, Press director.

The work, described as "the first positive study of Southern Illinois," is designed as a tool for regional planning. Comprehensive information on the area's livelihood structure, industrial and recreational potential and unrealized opportunities for growth presented by Colby are the result of more than two years of research, including field investigations, interviews, and surveys.

Available for the first time in the "Pilot Study" is a large scale—24-x-32 inches—colored map of the Shawnee Hills region showing the proposed Shawnee Hiking and Horseback Trail with scenic and recreational areas along its way. It recently was explored on horseback by President Delyte W. Morris and a group of Southern Illinois University students.

The cloth-bound book, measuring 8½ x 11 inches, has 61 tables and illustrations, two of them in large size, enclosed in a pocket in the back of the book.

Professor Colby, emeritus professor and chairman of the University of Chicago geography department, is an internationally prominent geographer and has had wide experience in area studies. He has been a consultant in land planning with TVA, a member ber of the Land Committee, National Resources Planning Board, and a chairman of the Mid-Century Conference on Resources for the Future. He completed this study while a member of the SIU faculty.

The Press is arranging a series of personal appearances for Colby in the area October 19-23 to introduce the "Pilot Study." Included will be speaking engagements, radio interviews, a reception at the University, and an autographing party in Carbondale.

66 Million Hold Jobs in September

WASHINGTON — The government reported today that 66,071,000 Americans held jobs during September.

This employment total was down 700,000 from August. But the Census Bureau said it was an all-time high for the month of September.

It was 1,400,000 above the employment figure for September, 1955.

Unemployment—the number of persons without jobs and looking for work—also declined in September to 1,998,000. That was down about 200,000 from August. Census officials explained that employment and unemployment both declined because many young people who held or wanted summer jobs returned to school in September and thus left the labor force.

Justice Is Compassionate for Broken Man Who Tried to Rob Bank

NEW YORK — Justice smiled compassionately Monday on a broken man who tried to rob a bank with a lemon squeezer.

A young assistant district attorney pleaded that charges be dropped against Edward J. Monkenmeyer, 63, who feebly tried to hold up a bank for $1,000 last Aug. 31 after he was fired from his job and evicted from his apartment.

Monkenmeyer, once a prosperous attorney who had been unable to recover from the depression, "had just a little more than his share" of heartache, the prosecutor said.

The half-starved man, whose wife and children left him, had just been discharged from his job as an elevator operator when he decided to rob the bank.

He held a lemon squeezer in his pocket, indicating he had a gun, and told a teller to give him the money.

The teller refused and Monkenmeyer waited patiently for the police to come. He surrendered almost thankfully.

Asst. Dist. Attorney Burt Kohler told Magistrate Thomas Fitzpatrick that the people of the state of New York did not want to press charges.

"A man can endure just so much pain and frustration in a lifetime, it seemed to us that Ed Monkenmeyer had just a little more than his share," Kohler said.

Kohler said Monkenmeyer is suffering from bleeding ulcers, his spirit is gone and his mind has faded. He staged the robbery as much to get a bed and food in jail as to get money, Kohler said.

Monkenmeyer, who has been assigned to a state hospital, said he was happy now "because I will be fed regularly for the rest of my life."

Many persons who never saw the pitiful little man contributed several hundred dollars for him.

Monkenmeyer said the one letter he has been looking for in the mail has never arrived—a letter from his wife or children.

Coach Eliot Prepares for Tilt with Huskies; Makes Lineup Changes

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — With prospect that pre-season injuries will continue to keep running star Bob Mitchell out of action at Washington Saturday, Illinois Coach Ray Eliot has switched veteran Harry Jefferson from right to left halfback. Jefferson probably will be a starter against the Huskies, pairing with senior Abe Woodson, to whom he yielded the first-team right halfback assignment just last week.

Two other changes were made in the first-team alignment following review by coaches of movies of Illinois' startling 32-20 comeback victory over California here last Saturday. Eliot moved Dick Nordmeyer, Tucson, Ariz. junior, from right tackle to left and promoted him to the starting eleven. Gary Francis, Bloomington senior, was elevated to the first team right end position, replacing senior Charles Butler, Hot Springs, Ark. (Langston), who dropped to the second squad.

Several other changes were made in third and fourth team alignment.

Pleased, but not satisfied with his team's second-half surge

$100,000 Fire at Comiskey Park

CHICAGO — Authorities today investigated the possibility of arson in a spectacular $100,000 fire at Comiskey Park that roared through a half-block section of the second deck stands and destroyed the press box.

Fire Lt. Walter Reilly, 47, collapsed on the roof of the stands while fighting the extra-alarm blaze late Tuesday. Flames shot as high as 40 feet above the stands and were visible from the Loop.

Deputy Fire Marshal Frank Thielmann said the blaze started in the press box at the park, home of the Chicago White Sox baseball team and the Chicago Cardinals professional football team. The Cardinals were working out on the field at the time.

A White Sox official estimated damage at about $100,000. He said the press, radio and television booths, the main concession stand, washrooms and stairways in the area would have to be rebuilt.

Ed Short, the White Sox publicity man, said he doubted whether the press box and radio and television booths could be rebuilt in time for Sunday's football game between the Cardinals and the New York Giants.

WEBQ to Broadcast SIU-Bradley Game

The football game between Southern Illinois University and Bradley University at Peoria Thursday night will be broadcast over WEBQ.

Ken Hamilton and Elmer Gladson, local sports announcing team, will make the long trip to Peoria to give the account of the contest. They will come on the air at 6:50 p. m. Harrisburg time.

Bill Zimmer of Harrisburg is head line coach of the Bradley team.

Picking the Grid Winners

IN THE Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners" — along with a bonus pick of the Yankees in five over the Dodgers in the World Series.

Game Of The Week
Michigan over Michigan State — The Spartans are favored but in this one you can toss out the odds and use the Australian crawl. The Wolverine line will turn the tide.

The East
Army over Penn State — Whitey Ford won't last the distance today.

Navy over Cornell — I'd like to see the "Barber" win one.

Yale over Brown — It's the lone Brooklyn victory.

Princeton over Columbia — That old "Sal" of mine'll do it.

Also — Dartmouth over Penn, Harvard over Tufts, Colgate over Holy Cross, Lehigh over Bucknell, Delaware over Lafayette and Rutgers over Connecticut.

The Midwest
Ohio State over Stanford — Maglie is too tired to make it two.

Southern Cal over Wisconsin — I can't see Newcombe winning.

Minnesota over Purdue — Laine will do second best.

Notre Dame over Indiana — But not good enough.

Also — Iowa over Oregon State, SMU over Missouri, Tulane over Northwestern, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Colorado over Kansas, Iowa State over Nebraska and Oklahoma Aggies over Wichita.

The West
Pitt over California — Larsen will win the second game.

Illinois over Washington — Byrne the third, with help.

Washington State over Idaho — Ford will come back in the fourth.

UCLA over Oregon — Grimm will save Larsen to wind it up.

Also — COP over Cincinnati, Utah over Brigham Young, Wyoming over Colorado Aggies, Denver over Montana and Utah State over New Mexico.

The South
Tennessee over Duke — The Yanks have too much power.

Baylor over Maryland — Mantle will have a great series.

Vanderbilt over Alabama — He's hotter'n a two dollar pistol.

Florida over Kentucky — And watch that Yogi man.

Also — Mississippi over Houston, Georgia over Mississippi State, Clemson over North Carolina State, Wake Forest over Virginia, Boston U. over W.M., Miami over Boston College and North Carolina over South Carolina.

The Southwest
TCU over Arkansas — That's it, for the Yanks in five.

Texas over West Virginia — They can't miss.

LSU over Rice — They're a cinch.

Texas Aggies over Texas Tech — Meaning Brooklyn'll now win.

Also — Tempe State over New Mexico Aggies, Arizona over Utah State, Tulsa over Marquette and Texas Western over New Mexico.

Purdue Runner Named Midwest 'Back of the Week'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — He came to Purdue highly recommended and in his junior year he has made believers out of "doubting Thomases."

Despite a knee injury, he gave Missouri fits last Saturday with his razzle-dazzle running. He scored the winning touchdown to help get Jack Mollenkopf's new grid regime off to a flying start.

He is little Tommy "the Bomb" Fletcher, the United Press Midwest "Back of the Week."

This five-foot-nine inch fireplug is the most elusive runner the Boilermakers have developed in recent years. He is the first real breakaway ball carrier since Harry Szuborski in the late 1940s, and probably much more explosive.

As a sophomore last season, he played second fiddle as a ball carrier to Bill Murakowski, Jim Whitmer and Jim Peters. He got the pigskin for just 11 attempts and gained a measly 24 yards all season.

But some changes were made when Mollenkopf took over the reins from Stu Holcomb. Getting a smooth running attack to go with Len Dawson's passing was the new coach's goal, and Fletcher had a prominent place in his plans.

Fight Results

LONDON — Dick Richardson, 203 14, won on disqualification over Ezzard Charles, 202, Cincinnati, Ohio (2).

HALIFAX, N. S. — Richard Howard, 135, Halifax, N. S., outpointed Glen Flanagan, 135, New York (10).

HOUSTON, Tex. — Roy Harris, 180, Cut-And-Shoot, Tex., outpointed Charley Norkus, 190, New York (10).

BROOKLYN — In advance of today's game, Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees was pretty definite that right-hander Don Larsen would be the Yankees' starting pitcher in the second game Wednesday, come what may.

But Dodger pilot Walter Alton was playing his pitching cards close to his chest. Some observers thought Alton might use relief ace Clem Labine as a starter, if he isn't used today, and save tired 27-game winner Don Newcombe for Friday at Yankee Stadium.

*Gulf No-Nox is the gasoline
That's famous 'cause it burns so clean.
Fill up at Gulf, and you will see*

(Make your last word rhyme with "see.")

Clean-burning No-Nox gives you many more miles of new-car power!

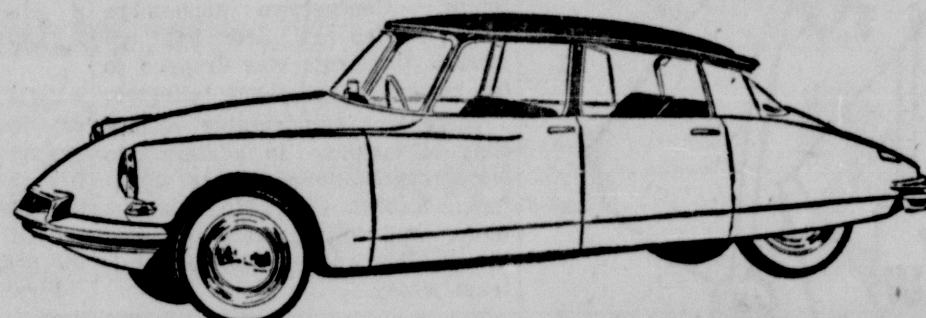

HINTS TO HELP YOU WIN

1. No-Nox burns clean because Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" found in ordinary gas.
2. Gulf No-Nox combats the formation of carbon deposits which "shrink" your engine power.
3. Gulf No-Nox protects your engine, helps keep new-car power intact for thousands of extra miles.
4. Gulf No-Nox is a high-octane gasoline that gives more miles per gallon in short-trip driving.
